CRAFT BEER PARADISE RETURNS TO THE HEART OF BUSSELTON!

Mark your diary! The South West Craft Beer Festival is back and bigger than ever, making itself at home in the heart of Busselton.

The festival kicks off on Saturday 16th February 2019 at Signal Park, right on the picturesque town foreshore. A record number of craft breweries and cideries from the South West region of Western Australia will be bringing their ales, pales and everything in between for all to sample, providing a whole lot of good times on tap.

Beer enthusiasts can take a tasting trip of the region's best craft beer, from Mandurah in the north right through to the south coast of Denmark, all in the one place!

Frothie lovers will rejoice at the incredible range of 130+ brews on offer from 25 craft breweries and cideries, including an eclectic selection of special and new release brews showcased in our One Off Tasting Bar.

For those who aren't fully committed to beer, you aren't forgotten! Not only do we have the South West's best brews on offer, we've also got a heap of thirst-quenching ciders and an award-winning collection of local wines to satisfy any taste and preference. You want it, we have got it!

Some of our attending brewers will also be partnering up with local producers and restaurants from the South West region to deliver yummy bites of food that match their brews to perfection. Plus, the best local food trucks from the region will be cooking up a storm, so there will be something delicious on offer for all fussy tastebuds.

Throw in some of the best live acts and DJ's from the region, who have all cut their teeth performing across local breweries or pubs, and the South West Craft Beer Festival is looking up to be a real highlight in WA's Summer calendar.
