

SOUTH WEST MUDFEST - Muddier Than Ever in 2016

Getting down and dirty never felt so good with this year's South West Mudfest in Margaret River guaranteed to be muddier than ever!

Bootleg Brewery will play host to the third annual South West Mudfest on Saturday July 2, with two muddy courses packed full of challenging obstacles and good times!

The 12km Dirty Dozen race in the morning is suited for those who like it tough and crave a physical challenge, whilst the 5km Mud Mayhem course in the afternoon is for those who just want a few laughs with their friends and family!

Participants should prepare for a fun, challenging and muddy experience within a south-west themed course. Obstacles such as beer kegs, hay bales, tractor tyres, water slides, mud pits, bird netting and more await!

There's no chance of getting out clean with our "true" mud run experience, with the region's winter weather expected to provide a paddock full of puddles and a course full of oozy clay.

Mudfest Event Director, Jason Dover, confirms that plans are well underway to make the 2016 event bigger and better this year. "This event has grown over the first couple of years and has been so much fun for competitors. The event location is so awesome because there are heaps of surrounding paddocks around Bootleg Brewery but most importantly lots of real mud!"

Not only is the South West Mudfest great fun for competitors, it also contributes to the local Margaret River community.

"The most exciting aspect is the growth of the event means it has become a great fundraiser for the local sports clubs in the south-west. The Margaret River Hawks have been awesome to work with and have put a heap of effort into building the event over the past few years. Last year we had a number of other clubs also help with the event so there is a long term goal to see all of these sporting clubs benefit," Dover said.

The Dirty Dozen long course will test your fitness and endurance, plus is suitable for those aged 15 and over. The Mud Mayhem course comes in at a shorter 5kms and is perfect for those who just want to have a little fun, suitable for ages 12 years plus.

Enticement awaits at the finish line for every competitor in the form of a famed meaty hamburger and chilled craft beer from Bootleg Brewery, or water/soft drink for the youngsters. Not to mention a steaming hot shower!

The South West Mudfest acknowledges the support of its partners Major Motors Isuzu Ute, City of Busselton and Bootleg Brewery. Don't forget to bring a gold coin donation for the valuables drop with all funds raised going directly to local sporting club and event partner, The Margaret River Hawks Cricket Club.
